

NIP AND TUCK

But the Columbia Wins the Race and the Series.

Closest Finish This Afternoon Ever Seen in Any Cup Race.

With Two Miles To Go Shamrock Was in The Lead

But She Had Only a Few Seconds Advantage Over American Yacht.

Day Opened With Good Breeze and Columbia Led But Shamrock Later Took the Lead—Wind Died Down and It Looked as if Race Might Not Be Finished in Time.

Highlands, Oct. 4.—4 p. m.—Columbia won this afternoon's race and the series. It was the closest finish ever seen in the cup races. The finish line was in direct line from this point, but observers with powerful glasses could not see any difference in the yachts when they crossed the line. They went over at 3:36:04, and Columbia wins on the time allowance. The cup is safe and probably it will be a long time before another challenger comes for it.

Highlands, Oct. 4.—11 a. m.—They are off and Columbia is in the lead. Columbia crossed the line at 11:02:45; Shamrock at 11:03:03.

As the boats were along through the water the Columbia again showed her unquestioned superiority and placed so much water between herself and the challenger that the Englishman did not appear to be able to cut her wind.

At 11:16 the Columbia led by nearly a minute.

The yachts were timed at 11:29 and the Shamrock, which had crept up on the Columbia was found to be leading by about one minute.

A few minutes before 10 o'clock the Shamrock, under tow, reached the lights and her bow was hung up into the wind, while the crew sent aloft her club topsail.

The Columbia, as soon as she reached the lightship, was brought up into the wind and her mainsail hoisted.

The Navigator at 10 o'clock took her position to the south of the lightship.

The Columbia's crew sent her club topsail aloft at 10:15 and shortly afterwards the big club topsail on the Shamrock was sent up.

At 10:20 the regatta committee sent up the code flag "D. C. S." which indicates the first course will be south, southeast.

At 10:26 Columbia lowered her club topsail as it was probably Barr's intention to hoist a larger one.

At 11 o'clock the starting gun was fired and both boats stood away for the line with Columbia in the lead and Shamrock to windward.

At 11:02 the handicap gun was fired. Columbia went over the line at 11:02:45 and Shamrock at 11:03:03.

As neither of the boats crossed within the handicap time the time was taken at the handicap gun at 11:02. Columbia had the advantage of the start by 18 seconds.

As the Shamrock stood down on the line she broke out her balloon and her spinnaker and was immediately followed by Barr who set the same sail after crossing the line. Sycamore, being to windward of Columbia, began to cut the American's wind and a luffing match followed, Columbia trying to free herself so as to have her wind clear. Spinnakers were set to starboard and mainsails to port. In the luffing battle which followed the start Sycamore began to creep up on the defender. Columbia lost some of her lead while trying to luff out.

At 11:09 the Shamrock began to pull up rapidly and was soon on even terms with Columbia. Barr now had his wind perfectly free and the two stood along rapidly before the wind. Little by little Shamrock pulled off ahead of Columbia, but soon Columbia got under way and passed the Shamrock again.

As the boats tore along through the water Columbia again showed her unquestioned superiority and placed so much water between herself and the challenger that the Englishman did not appear to be able to cut her wind. At 11:16 Columbia led by nearly a minute.

Shamrock's spinnaker acted miserably, and the luff of the sail was wrinkled badly. The spinnaker boom was evidently too light for it bobbed up incessantly into the air and the sails spilled their wind constantly. The Englishman then seemed to pick up a better breeze for she rapidly closed in on Columbia so at 11:22 she passed Columbia.

Shamrock was now getting the benefit of her larger sail and was moving along like a fleeting ghost. The Shamrock's crew had also given the spinnaker pole attention and as a result her spinnaker filled nicely.

At 11:25 she had opened up quite a gap between herself and Columbia. She was apparently running away from the American. Then followed another luffing match with Barr trying to kill his antagonist's wind and Sycamore trying to keep it free.

The yachts were timed at 11:30 and Shamrock was found to be leading by about one minute.

In the last ten minutes of sailing the Columbia appeared to get the benefit of every slight puff of wind and she more than held her own in the run to the first mark with the challenger, though Shamrock still had a good lead. The real test will come on the long thrash of fifteen miles home and if Columbia shows the same form she did in beating yesterday she should be able to overcome any lead that Shamrock may have on the run to the first mark. The wind at 11:43 did not average more than about nine knots off shore to judge by the speed the boats were sailing.

The wind appeared to strengthen a little and the yachts soon began to scoon along very fast to the first mark. At 11:55 Shamrock had a good lead and was apparently increasing her lead.

The challenger crossed the Columbia's bow at 1:07, showing that the Englishman was still in the lead.

The boats were nearing the mark at 12:04 p. m. with the Shamrock still holding the lead.

Shamrock rounded the mark at 12:49 flat, the Columbia at 12:49:50.

At 1:23 p. m. it was neck and neck.

Neither boat seeming to gain much though the Shamrock still kept a slight lead. It is doubtful now if the race can be sailed in the time limit.

At 1:30 p. m. the Shamrock held better wind than the Columbia. It is a rattling close race in light air and the yachts are still on fairly even terms.

with the advantage, if anything, in favor of the Shamrock.

With three miles yet to go in a very light air the Shamrock and Columbia are sea-sawing along, first one then the other in the lead. The Shamrock was ahead at 2:53 p. m. by a few seconds.

At 3:05 this afternoon with two miles to go the Shamrock is in the lead and may defeat the Columbia, notwithstanding the time allowance.

Columbia wins.

OFFICIAL STARTING TIME.
Sandy Hook, Oct. 4.—Official starting time: Columbia, 11:02:33; Shamrock, 11:02:51.

THIS MORNING

The Conditions Favored Good Race.

The Columbia Sailors are Happy.
Highlands, N. J., Oct. 4.—With two clean victories to her credit, the cup defender Columbia sailed forth from her moorings in the Horseshoe this morning to meet the English challenger, Shamrock II, for the deciding contest in the international cup series.

"Will Columbia make it three straight?" was the question put by the few and the many, inspired by yesterday's glorious victory, declared that she would. The race yesterday was so clinching in its argument that the American was the better craft that fears for the safety of the classic "mug" were dispelled and with that true American spirit not a few hoped that Sir Thomas Lipton would win a race. The Irish knight is a gallant sportsman and his well wishers among his American cousins are legion. Sir Thomas appreciates that Shamrock sailed in weather conditions yesterday which were prayed for by her designer and skipper. On reaching and beating the Irish sloop was beaten by Columbia and that tells the story.

No fairer test of the relative merits of the two yachts could have been had and Columbia, twice defender of the international trophy, proved herself truly the "Gem of the Ocean."

The race today will be a fifteen mile thrash to windward or leeward and return. A high northwest wind blew around Sandy Hook last night and at 8 o'clock this morning it was howling along at a 11 knot clip. The sea was as smooth as glass and everything seemed to conspire to make it a perfect yachting day.

With that indomitable pluck, which knows no defeat, so characteristic of the English, the sailors of the Shamrock were up before sunrise, getting ready for the race, determined to make their opponents taste the bitterness of defeat. It was a hard blow to the English jacksies to lose yesterday's race, and Charlie Barr, the helmsman of Columbia, only made it more cutting by coolly laying his sloop off and placing her squarely on Shamrock's weather, so that the Englishman's wind was killed. Having plucked Shamrock's speed so that she floundered badly he sailed away, leaving the Britisher well astern. The Green Hen and the Poll Parrot the tascots on board of Sir Thomas Lipton's steam yacht, Erin, were in bad favor this morning, but they did not seem to mind. Over on board the Park City, the tender of the Columbia's crew, there was great rejoicing today. The long summer's work was nearly over and with victory and prize money within sight they were accordingly happy.

Near 9 o'clock today the wind increased in strength and was soon puffing along from 16 to 18 knots. The sea soon became crested with glittering whitecaps and schooners running along the Jersey shore pounded badly. At 8:45 the tug Wallace B. Flint took the Columbia in tow and started for the Sand Hook lightship.

Captain Sycamore before the Shamrock left her moorings, ordered his crew to tail onto the mainsail halyards and hoist the big cloth. In the previous races mainsails were not hoisted on either of the sloops until the boats had neared the starting line. As the wind increased in strength yachtsmen predicted that Columbia would administer a more crushing defeat to the Englishmen today than yesterday. The air was biting cold and the observers on the Jersey shore huddled together in the lee of their trees.

Shortly before 9 o'clock the tug James Lawrence passed a tow to the Shamrock and then started on the nine mile journey to the starting line. A thick blanket of haze concealed the eastern horizon so that Sandy Hook

PROVED

BY INVESTIGATION THAT THE TANGIBLE PROPERTY

NOW BEARS NEARLY ALL OF THE TAX BURDEN.

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES.

Small Part of Bonds and Stocks Listed—Some Astonishing Statements Produced by the People Who Have been Making an Inquiry Into State of Affairs.

Columbus, O., Oct. 4.—One of the admissions made by the State Board of Equalization for Railways in its finding that it had no power to increase the present valuation of railroad properties is startling. It announces that but 5 per cent of the taxable bonds and stocks of the state are returned to the assessors, and but 10 per cent of moneys and credits find their way to the tax duplicates. These statements appear in the legal opinion of Attorney-General Sheets.

While the prime object of the complainants is defeated by this decision, yet one thing has been proved—i. e. that it is only tangible property in Ohio that is today bearing the burden of taxation, and that the bulk of it is borne by real estate.

The amounts involved are also startling in their magnitude. According to official statistics the total value of manufacturers' articles and materials in five chief cities of the state—Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Toledo and Dayton—on hand January 1, 1900, was $56,683,784. The total amount listed for taxation in the entire state was only $15,195,152, or a little more than 25 per cent of the value of the stock in the five cities named. From this it is deduced that this class of property is taxed at 15 per cent of its true value in money. It is contended that real estate is taxed 60 per cent of its value, although railway companies in their answer tried to show that this is excessive, and that the figure is nearer 30 per cent. The Taxpayers' League of Cincinnati, in reply to the railroads, asserted that in Hamilton County the valuation is from 60 to 125 per cent of its real value, and presented 100 individual cases in support of this claim, the owners agreeing to sell their property at or below the assessed value.

The complainants aver that railroad property is taxed at 21 per cent of its true value. The combined value is given at $117,000,000, which the complainants say is $500,000,000 less than it ought to be. These instances are quoted to bring about a comparison with the taxable value of the stocks, bonds, moneys and credits of the state, which Attorney General Sheets and the board admit are only nominally assessed.

An official publication shows that in the city of Cleveland the cash and money on deposit in the various banks there was $156,532,789, or $39,000,000 more than the total returned value of all the railroads in the state. The total amount of cash and money listed in Cuyahoga County, in which Cleveland is situated last April was $2,371,938 or less than 2 per cent of the actual amount.

The banker's register for 1901 shows that in Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton and Toledo, the aggregate deposits was $103,767,250, which, added to Cleveland's deposits, brings the total in the five cities named up to $200,301,039. The total amount of cash and money returned in the entire state was $47,605,056, slightly less than 20 per cent of the money on deposit in the five large cities. Less than one third of the population of the state live in these five centers, and it is not likely that their holdings do not exceed one-half of the money in Ohio, so that it seems clear that but 10 per cent of the actual amount in existence is returned to the Auditors. Still using Cleveland as the illustration it is shown by the official figures that less than $1,000,000 in stocks and bonds is returned for taxation in Cuyahoga County, a tremendously absurd proposition. The little county of Lake, which adjoins Cuyahoga and has no larger town than Painesville, with 6,000 population, returns double the sum found on the books in the larger county. It is contended that even less than 5 per cent of these taxable bonds and stocks are listed by their owners, so that hundreds upon hundreds of millions of dollars escape their just levies.

In a political way the Democratic leaders assert that the finding of the State Board has fully vindicated the wisdom of the state convention in its declaration that taxation in Ohio was grossly unequal and unjust.

During the session of the State Board of Equalization for real estate, which passed upon the decennial valuations the same charge was made. So clear a case was made out for Cincinnati and Hamilton county that a reduction of 12 1/2 per cent was made by an almost unanimous vote. At the last moment, through unexampled chicanery, the reduction was wined out and the iniquitous valuations allowed to stand.

Regarding Johnson's threat to institute legal proceedings many well-informed attorneys assert that he is practically powerless. The only course would be in mandamus, and this is not expected to stick.

It is said that owing to the disclosures made regarding the failure to report credits, moneys, stocks and bonds that an effort will be made the coming winter to give liquidatorial officers the power to examine the books and accounts of banks and corporations in order to secure the names of stockholders and depositors, this being the only solution of the evil. The remarkable feature of the situation is that the railway people stand ready to assist in the witch hunt for the concealed treasures, as they assert that they pay twice as much taxes as other public corporations.

ADMITS

HAVING KILLED SISTER IN CALIFORNIA

VERDICT OF THE CORONER WAS SUICIDE.

MURDER OF THE YOUNG WOMAN.

So Preyed on Lenon's Mind That He Became a Maniac—After Snooting Her Lenon Placed Pistol by Her Side and Then Hurriedly Left San Francisco.

Leavenworth, Kas., Oct. 4.—J. R. Lenon, alias Temple, arrested here, admits having murdered his sister in San Francisco about ten months ago. He says that about fourteen months ago his sister ran away with a man named Snyder, of Pittsburg, against the will of her family. He was an enemy of Snyder and traced the couple all over the United States, Canada and Mexico. Last January Lenon came across his sister in San Francisco. He tried to persuade her to return with him, but she refused. Lenon became incensed and shot her dead. He then placed the revolver by her side on the floor, to give the case the appearance of suicide, and left town.

The case was thoroughly investigated by San Francisco detectives and they returned the unanimous opinion that the girl was a suicide. The killing of his sister weighed on Lenon's mind to such an extent that he became a maniac.

OPEN SWITCH

Cause of a Bad Collision on the Pan Handle at Dayton, One Man Fatally Scalded.

Dayton, O., Oct. 4.—Two Pan Handle freight trains collided at the McDonough street crossing this morning. Engineer Castenberger of the extra freight, was perhaps fatally scalded. The other trainmen saved themselves by jumping. The loss to the railway company is heavy. An open switch was the cause of the collision.

INQUIRY

TODAY WAS DEVOTED TO THE COALING QUESTION

EXPERTS FURNISH FIGURES FOR THE COURT.

THE RETROGRADE MOVEMENT.

Defense of Action is Outlined in Statement Made by Rayner—Judge Advocate Drew Upon Official Record to Show Retrograde Movement was Not Justified.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Commander Rogers in the Schley case, who was chairman of the naval board that determined the effect of gun fire on the Spanish fleet, this afternoon testified that 34 per cent of damage to Spaniards was done by the Brooklyn.

Washington, Oct. 4.—In the Schley inquiry today the morning was devoted to the coaling question. Experts made it appear that Schley had no excuse for the retrograde movement toward Key West. Lieut. Dyson was asked to compute the number of days each of the fighting ships could have remained on blockade at Cienfuegos May 24 and still have enough coal to return to Key West, a distance of 519.5 miles. His estimate: Haines-Jackson 27 days; Iowa 18 days; Massachusetts 25; Texas 15; Marblehead 7. On Santiago to Key West, 790 miles, his figures were Brooklyn 25 days; Coma 11; Massachusetts 17; Texas 7; Marblehead 1.

SCHLEY'S CONDUCT, THE LOOP BLOCKADE AND BATTLE.

Washington, Oct. 4.—In the Schley court of inquiry, after Lieutenant Doyle, formerly of the Brooklyn, Commodore Schley's flagship, had completed his testimony, Captain William C. Dawson of the marine corps was called, and was followed by Lieutenant Charles W. Dyson of the bureau of steam engineering of the navy department. Captain Dawson was signal officer on board the battleship Indiana during the naval engagement off Santiago, and he gave an account from recollection of the behavior of the various ships of the American fleet during the battle. He said the Brooklyn had gone about 2,000 yards to the southward before joining in the pursuit of Cervera's ships. Lieutenant Dyson was introduced to testify concerning the coal supply of the flying squadron.

Lieutenant Doyle testified that the famous "turn" of the Brooklyn was made to avoid crossing the Spanish line. He was questioned as to the strength of the Spanish shore batteries, and was then asked how often he had seen Commodore Schley under fire. He replied: "Every time we were under fire during those bombardments and in the battle of July 3." Witness said the commodore during these times was just as well possessed as it was possible for any one to be under the circumstances. Continuing, witness said smoke was observed coming over the hills July 2, 1898, and that Commodore Schley had expressed the belief that the Spaniards were preparing to withdraw from the harbor. It was the impression of the witness that the commodore communicated this intelligence to the squadron. On cross-examination witness stated that the Brooklyn was 6,000 yards from the Morro when the Spanish ships emerged, 800 yards farther out than the position assigned. He thought the Brooklyn's first shot had been fired four or five minutes after she began to move into action.

TABULATED STATEMENT ON THE COAL SUPPLY.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Judge Advocate Lemly has drawn upon the official records in an effort to prove that the coal supply of the flying squadron on May 26 was not such that Schley was justified in ordering the retrograde movement to Key West. Schley gives the condition of his coal supply as the reason for the backward movement, which was undertaken, despite the orders of the department that he remain at Santiago.

The steam engineering bureau has compiled a tabulated statement. It shows the state of their coal supply at midnight, May 26, while the retrograde movement was in progress. It shows that with the supply of coal the ships could have remained on blockade in days: Brooklyn, 34.15;

Massachusetts, 26.23; Iowa, 20.13; Texas, 16.54; Marblehead, 8.01. Could have steamed at ten knots, days: Brooklyn, 13.6; Massachusetts, 10.5; Iowa, 8.9; Texas, 6.5; Marblehead, 4.07.

The attempted introduction of this table elicited from Attorney Rayner an objection in which for the first time Schley's defense for the retrograde movement was outlined. Rayner said that the statement was all right as far as it went. "But it does not go far enough," he explained. "We would like to have you show not only how many days the ships could have remained on blockade duty with this amount of coal, and how many days they could have steamed at ten knots an hour, but it is absolutely necessary for us to have it shown also how long this coal would have lasted, had our ships been compelled to go under a forced draught while chasing the Spaniards and how much more coal they would have needed to reach a coaling port."

CONDIGN

PUNISHMENT WAS INFLICTED ON ISLANDERS

Fifty-Six of the Leading Natives Were Killed by Germans on Island of St. Matthias.

Berlin, Oct. 4.—The cruiser Cormoran recently visited condign punishment on the natives of the island of St. Matthias, in the Southern Pacific, who in April last, killed Professor Bruno Menke, a German millionaire, and eight black laborers of the German South Sea company. The Cormoran visited the island and executed fifty-six of the principal natives.

BALLOONIST

Went Up in the Air and That is the Last Seen of Her—Searching Party Out.

LaSalle, Ill., Oct. 4.—Mrs. A. L. Seeley, better known as Lillian Lefay, an aeronaut of Reed City, Mich., made a balloon ascension at the La Salle street fair Wednesday night about 7 o'clock. Since that time she has not been seen, and all efforts of large searching parties to find her have been futile.

Yesterday the fire alarm was sounded, and a large crowd made a search of the timber south of La Salle. The balloon was found in a corn field near Oglesby.

When the ascent was made L. A. Seeley, husband of the aeronaut, followed the direction of the balloon in an express wagon. The parachute leap was successfully made. Owing to the darkness, however, the parachute and the aeronaut were lost sight of and the fate of the woman is a mystery. The bottom lands on both sides of the river were thoroughly searched last night by a large posse.

Seeley is of the opinion that his wife lodged in a tree and was seriously hurt. He says:

"The crowd yelled 'fakir,' and hissed us when we spoke of the high wind being very unfavorable. These exclamations thoroughly angered Lillian, and she resolved to risk the ascension rather than be called a faker."

WENT WAY UP.

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 4.—When an aeronaut was found unable to make an advertised balloon ascension at the Decatur county fair, Frank Touhy, a young farmer, volunteered. He refused to use the parachute, and the big airship sped upward until it passed from sight above the clouds. Soon it came in sight again and Touhy landed safely. He said he didn't want to disappoint the people who desired to see the ascension, and by his action made the highest ascent ever seen in this part of the country.

WILL ITALY LOAN TROOPS?

London, Oct. 4.—The Birmingham Post today quotes an Italian deputy as saying that Italy would be glad to loan England 25,000 troops to guard the lines of communication in South Africa for the cost of their keep. This suggestion of hiring mercenaries to carry on the war in South Africa indicates the worried feeling regarding the Boer war.

A BURNING QUESTION.

Here is one of the burning questions raised by the Democracy in the pending State Campaign, and it being too hot for the Republican leaders to hold they are trying to ignore it:

"The Republican majority of the general assembly deserves the condemnation of the people for its reckless extravagance and the creation of useless offices, while it enacted no legislation for the benefit of the people. The present Republican administration in the conduct of public affairs and in the management of public institutions has been the most costly in the history of the state."

The people will, as they should, hold them to strict accountability.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

Women who have themselves suffered from the evil effects of constipation and indigestion will be interested in the following letter from a father whose daughter was given up to die by two physicians:

"My daughter has suffered from indigestion for the past five years and has tried nearly everything that she could hear of for such trouble. She was confined to her bed when she began taking Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and after one fifty cent bottle she was able to walk a mile at a time and during the day yesterday walked 3 1/2 miles. I feel like praising Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin because two doctors told me my daughter could never get well and I feel that she is on a fair road to permanent relief.—Respectfully, J. H. M. Crocker, Nixon, Tenn., Aug. 6, 1931."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold in fifty cent bottles and $1.00 bottles, under a positive guarantee, by Johnson and Hall's Drug Store.

When a single district in the state in a single month produces over $2,500,000 in gold it is safe to say that Colorado has completely outdistanced competition.

The census statistics for 1910, published in 1914, gave the production of cast iron in the census year as 53,908 long tons.

Prominent Attorneys Indicted.
Chicago, Oct. 4.—Four men—three prominent attorneys and a well known railroad detective—were indicted on the charge of conspiracy in aiding and abetting Bailiff James Lynch, indicted for attempted jury bribing, to escape. The men indicted were Attorneys Alex Sullivan, counsel for the Union Traction company, successor to the West Chicago Street Railway company, against which corporation the suits were originally brought; Edward Maher and Frederick St. John, and George P. Murray, chief of detectives for the Illinois Central Railway company. Two of the indicted men, Sullivan and Maher, furnished bonds shortly after their indictment to the amount of $10,000. The indictments are said to have been made on the evidence of Lynch, who returned to the city and is said to have turned state's evidence.

McArthur's Future.
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 4.—General McArthur probably will be the next commander of the department of the lakes. General McArthur passed through Chicago on his way to Washington and when asked if he were to take command of the department in March, when General Otis retires, he said: "I think it very possible—indeed, I may say, probable, that I shall assume command in view of the fact that no order has been issued, however, I can say nothing definitely. I am on my way to New York, after which I shall go directly to Washington, where I am to report for special duty that will occupy about six weeks."

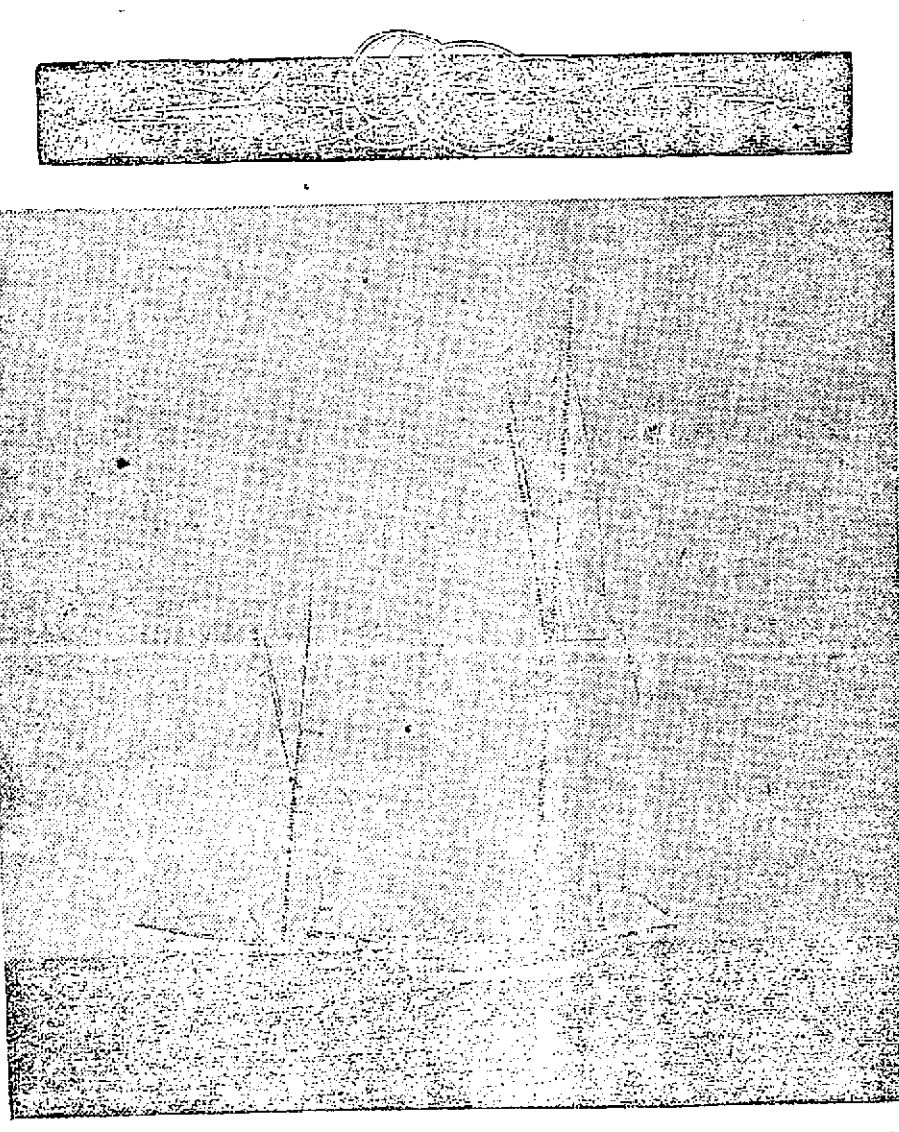

Army War College.
Washington, Oct. 4.—The secretary of war has made an allotment of $100,000 for the purpose of preparing the military post at Washington barracks for the use and occupation of the army war college, the school of national defense and the engineer school of application. The war college and school of national defense are entirely new institutions and will be organized under plans prepared under the special supervision of Secretary Root, who considers such institutions as essential parts of a properly equipped military establishment under modern conditions.

Massachusetts Democrats.
Boston, Oct. 4.—The Democratic state convention held here placed the following ticket in nomination: Governor, Josiah Quincy; Boston; Lieutenant governor, John W. Coughlin; Fall River; secretary of state, William B. Stone; Springfield; treasurer, Joseph I. Chalifoux; Lowell; auditor, James F. Dean; Salem; attorney general, A. A. Putnam; Bridge. For the first time in six years the Democrats of the state were united and, with one exception, nominated the entire ticket by acclamation.

Crescentus Fatigued.
Baltimore, Oct. 4.—Crescentus, the champion trotter of the world, driven by his owner, George H. Ketcham, failed in an effort on the Pimlico track to lower his record for a mile of 2:05 1/2. The best he could do was 2:05 1/2. The time by quarters was as follows: First quarter, 59; half, 1:02; three-quarters, 1:34; and the mile in 2:05 1/2. The track was in excellent condition and the weather fine. Seven thousand people witnessed the event.

Uncle Sam Active.
Constantinople, Oct. 4.—The United States government is determined to exact full revenge upon every one concerned and if anything happens to Miss Stone it will not hesitate to ask permission to bring a fleet through the Dardanelles to get at Bulgarian ports on the Black Sea, and to force the Bulgarian government to act against the Macedonian committee.

Stratton's Years of Prospecting.
Most people think because Winfield Scott Stratton was a carpenter and never heard of until the independence made him a multimillionaire in twenty eight days that he had nothing what ever to do with his own good fortune, relates the New York Times. But Stratton had been an indomitable prospector for years before he struck it. He lived at Colorado Springs, and in the winter he would work at his trade, and in the summer he would pack a burro with his outfit and follow the best on foot over the hills until the storms drove him into winter quarters again.

Stratton was invariably unsuccessful in these summer trips. Year after year he prospected in the San Juan, at Leadville and in other sections, but found nothing. But he was all the time acquiring an unrivaled knowledge of the ore bearing ground of Colorado. And he was no common prospector or miner. After awhile he took a course in geology, mineralogy and assaying at Colorado college. After that he was armed with a blowpipe, the only process of assaying available to the prospector in the field. The territory where he located the Independence July 4, 1891, had been deserted by even the few prospectors who had staked claims there as being entirely outside the gold belt. Stratton was left alone, and they called him "the hermit of Battle Mountain." The Independence began to produce in 1893, and by 1899, when he sold it to the London company, it had produced $4,500,000. He got $10,000,000 in cash for it.

The Bradley Martins.
Every now and then reports come from over the ocean as to the movements of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin. The English people regard them as the living exponents of money spending and lavish American hospitality. Just now the United Kingdom is quite excited over the fact that Mrs. Bradley Martin has not only taken an enormous party, including Lord and Lady Craven, in a private train to Baltimore, but that she has also hired half a hotel at Inverness to accommodate her friends who are to be present at the northern meeting.

The Usual Way.
"Do you expect to realize a fortune from your latest invention?" asked the capitalist.
"No," said the inventor. "I don't really expect to. I had some hopes, but I suppose it will be the usual programme. I'll imagine the fortune and some one else will realize it."—Washington Star

"This is dreadful. A man out hunting shot his wife," announced Mrs.
Henpeck. "I wonder how it could have happened. He mistook her for a deer."

The people who believe in a short life and a merry one must usually content themselves with the first half of their doctrine.

What Shall We Eat

TO KEEP HEALTHY AND STRONG.

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best, in spite of the claims made by vegetarians and food cranks generally.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form;
it is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables or grain.

Dr. Julius Remason on this subject says: Nervous persons people run down in health and low vitality should eat plenty of meat. If the digestion is too feeble at first, it may be easily strengthened by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal.

Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three or four hours, while the meat diastase also contained in Stuart's Tablets cause the perfect digestion of starchy foods, like potatoes, bread, etc., and no matter how weak the stomach may be no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets because so necessary to perfect digestion and stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach will be overcome by their daily use.

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspeptics should eat plenty of meat, and insure its complete digestion by the systematic use of a safe, harmless digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, composed of the natural digestive principles, pepsines and diastase which actually perform the work of digestion and give the abused stomach a chance to rest and to furnish the body and brain with the necessary nutriment. Cheap cathartic medicines, masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures are useless for relief or cure of indigestion, because they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of the food.

Dyspepsia in all its forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food and the sensible way to solve the riddle and cure the indigestion is to make daily use at meal time of a safe preparation which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain

AMUSEMENTS.

Manager Roschraugh announces "A

Robert B. Mantell, and the farce comedy, "A Runaway Match."

Willis Granger, the romantic young actor, will assume the leading role of Louis de Beaumont. France under the Bourbons was victimized by many corrupt practices; one of the most dreaded instruments was the Lettre de Cachet, which might easily be obtained by a court favorite. In many cases the secret warrant would be issued in blank. A courtesan in favor with the king might fill in a name and secure the arrest of a most worthy person, who would be forthwith incarcerated in the Bastille, and in many cases never heard of again. From this circumstance W. A. Tremayne, the author, has evolved a powerful romance. The above is a brief description of the play. Besides Mr.
Granger, the company includes Ber-erly Turner and Marion P. Clifton, both of whom created the original parts they play, Percy Cooke, Geo. W.
Hammond, Clifford Standish, Foster
Lardner, Russell Crawford, Adeline
Danlap, Grace Atwell and others.

The Keystone Dramatic Company
evidently has taken the Newark showers by storm. "A Marriage Certificate" was the bill and before the curtain was rung up every seat in the room was at a premium. Tonight

"East Lynne" will be the attraction.
Miss Shipman's work in the dual character of Lady Isabel and Madame Vane reputation reached from ocean to ocean. The version used by the company contains a great deal of comedy which will enable you to mix your laughs with your tears. Grand mat-

MANILLA HEMP CASE.

Colonel Heistand on the Stand
In His Own Behalf.

AIRS DEALINGS WITH MAJOR HAWKES

General Corbin and Other Government Officials Not Involved in the Matter, According to the Witness. Division of the Stock and the Mooted Matter of Introduction.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Lieutenant Colonel H. O. S. Heistand, the principal in the case, took the stand in the Manila hemp investigation, conducted by senate committee on military affairs. He detailed his acquaintance with Hawkes and explained how he began negotiations with him as to the hemp company. At a meeting of several persons interested he (Heistand) had said that he wanted some friends to have an opportunity to take stock in the company, mentioning the names of General Corbin, Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn and Assistant Secretary Allen. Major Hawkes mentioned the name of Assistant Attorney General Boyd. As to the list of names of persons in his own handwriting, Colonel Heistand thought he wrote the list as Hawkes mentioned the names. Witness broached the matter to General Corbin, who then seemed to think favorably of the proposition, but subsequently told witness he could not go into the company.

Colonel Heistand related his recollection of the "to whom it may concern" letter; how it was written and how the signatures were obtained. He said the letter did not contain the titles of Meiklejohn, Boyd and himself. This letter, he said, was not the same as that presented by Major Hawkes. Witness said he went to Hawkes and obtained the letter because it was being used in New York to indicate that government officials were promoters of the enterprise. When he withdrew this letter from Major Hawkes' possession, witness had considered the hemp enterprise at an end.

Senator Cockrell questioned Colonel Heistand closely regarding his relations with Hawkes after the letter of introduction was taken from him. Colonel Heistand said he had told Hawkes that he wanted nothing more to do with the hemp company. In a letter to Hawkes relative to sending him a pamphlet about Philippine duties, Colonel Heistand had used the expression, "Of course, the needs of the future will be met as developments require." In response to Senator Cockrell, witness said this had no reference to the hemp company, but to general conditions in the islands. The cablegram which he had sent to General Otis asking about a site for a hemp factory, it was shown, had been sent as an official dispatch, and the reply also came as an official dispatch, both paid for by the government. Colonel Heistand said the fact that he had not paid for these messages was the only matter in the whole transaction that gave him any concern. He intended the message to go as a private dispatch. He had shown it to Mr. Meiklejohn, who told him it was all right if sent as a private message. Colonel Heistand was asked about the division of the stock, and asserted that none of the stock was to go to any officials of the government for influence they might use in promoting the interests of the company.

Episcopal Conference. San Francisco, Oct. 4.—In conjunction with the opening of the triennial convention of the Episcopal church of America, a thanksgiving service was held in Grace church, at which the missionary offering of the woman's auxiliary, amounting to $104.26, was presented. It was received with heartfelt expressions of thanks. The session of the convention were devoted strictly to business. After the announcement of the standing committee, the debate on the proposed amendments to the constitution was begun and continued with much earnestness. The result was the adoption of the first seven articles, which were proposed in the general convention of 1898. One of the changes made in the old constitution pertains to matters of church government.

The accident occurred between the Thetford mines and Robertson station. A number of Americans were on both trains and returned here on a special. The former station is north and the latter south of Thetford mines. The killed are: Engineer Alto, Fireman Dean, Mail Clerk Roy. The seriously wounded are: Mail Clerk Lachance, Baggage man Niles.

WEDDING

OF CHARLES F. RHOADS AND MISS LILLIAN CRANE.

Nearly Two Hundred Guests—Event in Newark Society on Third St. Thursday Evening.

At 6 o'clock Thursday evening at the Crane home, 181 North Third street, Miss Lillian Crane and Mr. Charles Franklin Rhoads, in the presence of nearly two hundred invited guests, exchanged the solemn vows by which they were mutually pledged for life.

The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock by the Rev. Frank Granstaff, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, the beautiful ring service of the church being used.

The interior of the beautiful home was resplendent with cut flowers, palms and smilax, while a pavilion north of the residence, thirty feet square, was brightly lighted by large reflector lamps. The decorations here were most artistic, autumn leaves covering each side, blending perfectly with the drapings, consisting of American flags and smilax.

To the mellow strains of the ever beautiful wedding march of Mendelssohn, played by the Solid Four orchestra, the members of the bridal party took their place in the back parlor beneath a canopy of smilax, cypress vine and asparagus.

The gracious bride was gowned in white panne crepe, trimmed with Duchess lace and carried white roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Helen Crane, a cousin of the bride, wore pink silk mousseline and carried pink roses.

The ribbon bearer, Miss Elizabeth Rogers, of Chicago, aged eleven years, wore green panne silk, and was very pretty and graceful.

Mrs. Ferd Crane, mother of the bride, wore black grenadine over taffeta silk, trimmed with embroidered mousseline.

Mrs. Omar Crane, an aunt of the bride, wore black grenadine over taffeta silk, trimmed with turquoise velvet, with spangled net.

The groom was attended by his best man, Mr. Daniel Felix.

After the ceremony and the usual congratulations the two hundred guests sat down to a supper that was planned with happy effect and perfectly served.

The bride's table was decorated with pink and white roses, pink satin ribbon, ferns and pink candles burning in an elegant candelabra. At each plate was a souvenir rose. At this table sat Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Rhoads, and the bridal party, Miss Helen Smyers, Mr. Charles Brown, Mr. Max Vance, of Pittsburgh, Mr. Samuel Brown, Mr. Walter Metz, Mr. Ralph Davis, Mr. Charles Flory, Miss Ada Follett, Miss Buelah Miller, Miss Lucy Blood, Miss Lucille Harrington and Miss Bess Rhoads.

In the pavilion, after supper, dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. At the punch bowl Misses Bertha Latimer and Helen Jones, dressed in white, presided.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhoads left at 9:11 on the Pan Handle for New York, and will return by way of Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Canada, and will be at home after November 1 at 181 North Third street.

They were followed by all sorts of good wishes and blessings—and rice.

The out-of-town guests were Miss Lulu Bolenbaugh, of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. H. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Graham, of Zanesville; Mrs. William Clapper, of Sonora; Mr. Max Vance, of Pittsburgh, Miss Jennie Irwin of Connelville, Pa., and Miss Elizabeth Rogers of Chicago.

The presents were numerous and handsome, cut glass and silverware predominating.

The young couple start life together under the most propitious circumstances, with the kindest wishes of a legion of good friends.

MISFORTUNES

Seem to be Coming in a Bunch for the Family of Rev. Mr. Chapin at Utica, Ohio.

(Utica Herald.)

The fates might with consistency be accused of "having it in" for the family of Rev. Mr. Chapin.

About ten days ago while Roy Chapin was cutting corn he cut a short but deep gash in a dangerous location on one of his ankles, which developed into so serious a wound that he has been confined to his home ever since except for a couple of trips down town which aggravated his trouble.

Last Friday his brother Merle Chapin, cut a gash across one of his knee caps with a corn cutter and the services of a surgeon were required to dress it.

On Monday of this week his younger brother Hobart Chapin was wrestling with Maxwell Alsford in play at school, when he was thrown and falling across a stone both bones of his left arm were fractured near the wrist.

It is hoped that Miss Chapin will invest in an accident insurance policy before she falls down cellar, and that the Reverend himself will be on guard against pitfalls that may be yawning for him.

BRIDE

Wept Over the Body of the Man Whom She Had Married Fifteen Minutes Before.

Lebanon, Ky., October 4.—Edward Eddlen and Belle Buckner, colored, were married Wednesday night. Eddlen had been sick for several weeks and his condition became so serious that his death was momentarily expected. He was told that he could live out a short while, and he asked that a marriage license be procured and a priest summoned so that he might marry the girl who had been all kindness to him and be then received into the Catholic church. A license was hastily procured, and as the man lay dying the words which bound them were said. Fifteen minutes after the ceremony had been concluded the bride wept over the death of her husband.

REMAINS

Of Peter Stevens and Isaiah Beaumont Exhumed at Johnstown After Sixty-Five Years.

(Johnstown Independent.)

During the past week the remains of Peter S. Stevens and Isaiah Beaumont and wife were exhumed from the little knoll on the south side of Coshooton street, opposite M. J. Emerson's residence and removed to the town cemetery and again buried. Their bodies had been buried sixty-five years and but little remained except the skulls and a few of the larger bones. The coffins were made of black walnut and nailed together with blacksmith made nails, fully six inches long. On the lid of the coffin enclosing the remains of Mr. Stevens the letters "P S S, 75" had been made with brass tacks, and was yet in very good preservation. P S Stevens was the grandfather of John Stevens and Isaiah Beaumont and wife were the great-grandfather and great-grandmother of W. D. Beaumont of Alexandria. Several of our older citizens remember very well when these burials were made sixty-five years ago. The little head stones had long ago fallen to the ground and were entirely covered with earth. The remains of Dan Stevens, buried in the Green Hill cemetery, were also disinterred and buried in the town cemetery.

TOO YOUNG

To Sue for Divorce, so Father Did It for Him—An Unusual Case at Columbus.

Columbus, O., Oct. 4.—James D. Newton secured a divorce for his son James Otto Newton, in the Court of Common Pleas. James O. Wasn't old enough to sue for a divorce himself, he being but 19 years of age, and his father brought the suit for him. The boy who is but 19 years of age, was divorced from Ruby Charlotte Newton on the grounds of extreme cruelty and gross neglect of duty. They were only married a year ago, and the wife was one year older than her youthful husband. They were married at Moundsville, W. Va., and came to Columbus to live. It appeared that the young husband's troubles commenced shortly after their arrival in Columbus, as his wife objected to the city because it was so immoral. She scolded him all the time, and every time he went away from home without her he had to tell her where he had been and who he had seen during his absence. This program was followed it is said, if he but stepped across the street. The wife finally left Columbus, and the husband had his father get him a divorce.

Findlay, Ohio, at their residence and Mrs. Ida Welsh, of Summitville, Ind., were sentenced to from one to 14 years in the Woman's State Prison. The three women confessed to larceny. She refused to give her street address in Findlay. Mrs. Watson, 19 years old; said her husband is a well-to-do young farmer living three miles west of Findlay. Mrs. Welsh said her husband was working at Dunkirk, Ind. Harry Williams, of Delaware, O., a brother of Mrs. Welsh, who was detained for investigation, was dismissed. The three women admitted a s of shoplifting among various stores in this city and Marion. Nearly all the goods were restored to the owners. Mrs. Cowles broke down once and on her knees prayed that she might die. When the Court passed sentence all of the women wept bitterly. Mrs. Welsh was nursing her little girl in court.

THE FAIR

FOURTH AND LAST DAY OF THE EXHIBITION.

Big Crowd in Attendance—Best Racing of Fair—Parade of Premium Stock a Beautiful Sight.

Today, the last day of the fair, was attended by an immense crowd of people. All the attractions were well patronized, and everybody that had anything to sell, sold it. The races were good, the exhibits were good, the day was enlivened with much music, and as usual on the last day, Newark people turned out in crowds. The exhibition horses were shown, and a magnificent sight it was. The fat cattle were also led around the ring to the tune of "Sounding brass and tinkling cymbal," and bore themselves with honor and dignity. Blue and red ribbons fluttered from forelocks and horns, and the leaders of the prize equine, or bovine seemed animated by a spirit which couldn't be contained in anything smaller than a hog's head.

The last day of the fair certainly seemed to be most successful and everybody present seemed to think it a day well spent.

The management of the fair certainly has reason to congratulate itself on the success of the exhibition this year.

The crowd at the County Fair on Thursday was the largest during the week, as is usually the case.

The magnet which drew the vast throng of 10,000 people was the fact that Col. James Kilbourne, the Democratic candidate for Governor, as well as the excellence of the entire exposition.

Col. Kilbourne made a splendid speech in front of the grand stand, which was entirely non-partisan and his happy effort was applauded by all. His tact and delicacy, in addressing this multitude, composed as it was of members of both political parties, were commented upon. Judge Overturf said to an Advocate reporter, who was standing close by, "That was a fine non-partisan speech, and I enjoyed it."

Judge Overturf is a candidate on the Republican ticket for State Senator, and his remark was a genuine tribute to Col. Kilbourne's personality.

In the course of his remarks, Colonel Kilbourne said:

"I am indebted to Licking county, and the debt I can never repay. When it comes to that I am bankrupt. From this county I received the best wife that ever lived. My only daughter married a Columbus man, but I have three likely sons, to whom I will give a certificate of character, and I have said to them that the surest way of obtaining happiness was to seek a wife in Licking county."

Colonel Kilbourne's speech was heartily and genuinely applauded.

The races at the fair have never been surpassed, and seldom equalled, in the history of the Agricultural Society.

The harness events were both split up into extra heats and the great crowd had their full of excitement.

The first race of the day was the 2:24 trot, for which Jim Fenton had sold favorite over the field. What was the surprise when Dick Toler, driven in masterly style by his owner, went out and won the first two heats.

Toler was then installed favorite at odds of about 100 to 60 and the wise ones had another "throw down," as "Dick" perceptibly tired and Fenton, the favorite, won the next three heats and the race, each in a fierce drive.

The second race was won by Mollie G. from the favorite Dick R., but the race was a heart breaking contest of six heats, and stamina alone won for the plucky daughter of Black Jim.

The third race was a sprint of one-half mile, best two in three heats, and was won in straight heats by Round O, owned by Homer Brickles of this city. In the second heat, Lewis, on Round O, just succeeded in winning by a nose from Ada Russell, who was cleverly ridden by McKenna. Had the race been fifty yards further, Ada Russell would have won. McKenna, clearly outriding Lewis in the stretch. The summaries follow:

WAR

ON STRIKING CIGARMAKERS AT TAMPA, FLA.

Many are Sullen and Make Violent Threats Against the City—Police Force is Increased.

Tampa, Fla., Oct. 4.—The war on the alleged "vagrant" striking cigarmakers is on in full force. Hundreds have been arrested and given the alternative of 30 days in jail or go to work in the factories. Most of the men clear the latter. Cries and all the resorts are raided in a most high handed manner but public sentiment is with any method, no matter how violent, to make the strikers work and save the cigar business. Many of the strikers are sullen and make violent threats against the city. The police force is doubled around the factories at night.

With Lye by a Woman Who Was Also Very Handy With an Ax—Assaulted Her Sick Husband.

West Bay City, Mich., Oct. 4.—Mrs. Mary McInaud was arrested recently for assaulting her sick husband at the house of a neighbor. Her examination was held. Her two daughters confessed that she frequently beat them and chased them with an ax, and that before Mr. McInaud was removed to the house of a neighbor, where he continues to receive proper care, Mrs. McInaud gave him several pots of tea made with scapine and pancakes mixed with lye. The stuff was so strong that McInaud's stomach was almost ruined. When the judge announced that he would adjourn the case for two weeks, allowing the woman, the two little girls cried out with fear. Neighbors are caring for the girls. The county physician examined Mrs. McInaud and pronounced her perfectly sane.

WITH KEEN REGRET

England Last Evening Received Tidings of Shamrock's Second Fall.

London, Oct. 4.—Great Britain was grievously disappointed over the second defeat of challenger Shamrock II. The early editions of the newspapers announcing that it was the Shamrock II's weather had keyed up hopes here almost to a pitch of certainty, and many people entertained the idea that the depression over South African affairs might be relieved by a victory of Shamrock II. The latter's lead in the early part of the race so strengthened the impression that London threatened a repetition of Mafeking night. The crowds greeted the green lights on the towers and on the launches which paraded the Thames with wild delight. But Columbia's red slowly crept up and motor cars with megaphones dashed up and down the embankment proclaiming Columbia's lead. The yachts in the Thames reversed the position of their lights and those on the signal towers were changed. The crowds stood mute, awaiting the final messages. American cup dinners were advertised at the embankment hotels, and overlooking the river many fashionable people dined, watching the moving lights until red, full sides, was flashed out. "Columbia wins!" was shouted through the hotel corridors, and the throngs dispersed.

For Britishers the real interest has departed. Their only desire is to get the matter ended. "If we are to be thrashed again," says Daily Chronicle, "we had rather take our gruel at once with all the good humor at our command." In short, the editorials do not make the slightest attempt to explain the defeat. They frankly admit that the Shamrock II was beaten in her own weather and under conditions most favorable to her, and they congratulate America upon being possessed of the better boat.

REVIEW.

Of Yesterday's Race, Which Was a Decisive Victory for Columbia.

New York, Oct. 4.—As fully telegraphed to the Advocate in these dispatches yesterday, Columbia for the second time beat the Englishman's yacht, Shamrock II, over a triangular course of 50 miles by 2 minutes and 52 seconds actual time. With the 43 seconds which the Irish sloop must allow the American boat on account of her larger sail plan, the Columbia won the second race of the series by 3 minutes 25 seconds. The fastest race ever sailed in a cup contest, it was not only a royal struggle from a spectacular point of view, but it was absolutely decisive as to the merits of the two racing machines. There is not a yachting sharp who witnessed the race who is not firmly convinced that the defender is the abler boat, blow high or blow low, beating, reaching or running, and that Sir Thomas and his British tars are doomed to return home empty-handed.

The wind was strong and true, blowing around 18 knots out of the north-west, and at every point of sailing, except perhaps running before the wind, in which the defender has already taken the measure of the challenger, the Yankee sloop proved herself abler than the Watson model. From the time she crossed the starting line, 1 minute and 34 seconds behind the cup hunter, until she picked up and passed the Irish boat three miles after rounding the second mark, Columbia's pace was faster and she behaved better than her rival. Reaching for the first mark 10 miles down the Long Island shore, with the wind abaft the beam, she gained 22 seconds. In the closer reach for the second stake she gained 30 seconds, and in the dash to windward on the leg home she gained exactly 2 minutes.

Sir Thomas Lipton was plainly depressed at the result of the race. He said: "I admit frankly that I got licked by the best boat, in a fair and square race, and I maintain and believe that there is not a better skipper afloat than Captain Sycamore, nor a better crew than mine. I have as much esteem for my captain and crew as when I came to this side, but they can't do impossibilities. They took as much out of the boat as could be taken. I am very much disappointed at the result, and the only consolation is that I know that I've been licked by a good, honorable opponent. I know that the wind was true and that the Columbia won without a fluke. As long as the Shamrock flag flies, there is just as much fight in me and until I'm beaten in the third race I'm just as hopeful."

To Entertain Lipton.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Sir Thomas Lipton will be royally entertained during his coming visit to Chicago, according to the preparations being made by the committees appointed for the reception and banquet at the Chicago Athletic club. The date has not yet been set. In addition to the members of the leading clubs, invitations will be extended to the foreign consuls and representatives residing in Chicago and to many personal friends and acquaintances of Sir Thomas.

After the Lynching.

Helena, Mont., Oct. 4.—A grand jury was impaneled in Judge Smith's court to investigate the lynching of James Edward Brady, who was hanged by a mob. Judge Smith, in instructing them, said: "I cannot believe that the mob was composed of any but the lowest element of society, but if you find upon investigation that others took part, I charge you not to allow that fact to influence your final determination. All persons who took part in the killing of Brady are murderers and if you find out who they are, it is your duty to indict them."

NEW NAME

Of the Seventeenth National Bank in New York City May be McKinley Bank.

New York, Oct. 4.—William N. Cromwell, attorney for the receiver of the Seventh National bank has indicated that the reorganized bank may take the name of McKinley National bank. Some of the leading men in the reorganization plan approve of the name.

It is said that the presidency of the bank has been offered to F. D. Kilburn, of Malone, state superintendent of banks. He refused at Albany to confirm or deny the report.

A suit seeking to make each of the directors of the Seventh National bank individually liable for damages for the bank's deposits was yesterday begun by Max Brown, a lawyer, of No. 246 Broadway, who was a depositor of the wrecked bank.

The suit is not to recover the $3,000 which Mr. Brown says he deposited with the bank, but for $249 damages, which he says he sustained by paying bonuses in securing a loan of $3,000 from brokers. Mr. Brown's counsel, Elias Rosenthal, of No. 346 Broadway, says that this is a test case.

"If we succeed in establishing the liability of the directors individually, as I have no doubt we can do," he said, "there are hundreds of depositors who will bring similar suits."

Corning, O., Oct. 4.—The village of Rindville, one mile north of here, was almost entirely destroyed by fire last night. Some merchants and private families lost everything they possessed. The loss is estimated at $50,000, with small insurance.

ACTOR SHOT BY ROBBER.

Pittsburg, Oct. 4.—George Protzman, a well dressed actor out of work, was mistaken for a banker by a robber last night and held up. He told the robber he had no money, then grappled and was shot in the thigh. The robber fled and Protzman crawled a block before he was found by the police. He is in a hospital now and his condition is critical.

MRS. GARRET A. HOBART.

One of those who have visited Mrs. McKinley and personally expressed sympathy to the widow of the martyred president is Mrs. Hobart, widow of the former vice president, who died in office during Mr. McKinley's first term.

AMERICA REAPING the FRUIT of CENTURIES OF OPPRESSION

AMERICA has for a third time lost her president by the hand of an assassin, but she is too great and courageous to go back on the course she has taken in the forefront of the nations. Not by coercive measures, not by limiting the rights and powers of association, but by continually enlarging them, will she defend herself from the madmen who dream of rebuilding society by burying it under ruins.

SHE WILL GO ON WITH THE WORK OF CIVILIZATION UNTIL THE ENTIRE NATION REALIZES THAT CONFLICT OF INTERESTS ALONE IS HUMAN AND THAT TO FIGHT OTHERWISE THAN WITH THE BRAIN IS TO LOWER OURSELVES TO THE LEVEL OF BRUTES.

Meantime, if America is in any degree paying the penalty of her free institutions, let us assure her she has the sympathy and admiration of the civilized world, and if her chosen men, the representatives of the people, fall martyrs to the insane acts of immigrants from oppressed nationalities the world sees that she is reaping the bitter fruit of centuries of oppression in less enlightened lands.

It is all terribly cruel, but IT IS THE CRUELTY OF NATURAL LAW, and we must bow our heads before nature's awful punishment of the offenses of the dark past. The assassination of President McKinley, honored servant, and not master, of his country, is a frightful sequel to the tyrannies of tyrants dead and gone.

IF I KNOW ANYTHING OF PRESIDENT MCKINLEY, THE LAST THING HE COULD HAVE DESIRED WAS THAT HIS DEATH AT THE HANDS OF A MISGUIDED FANATIC CALLING HIMSELF AN ANARCHIST SHOULD IMPEDE BY ONE DAY OR ONE HOUR THE PROGRESS OF THE WORLD.

THE PROGRESS OF WOMEN

By Rev. ANNA HOWARD SHAW

WE do not assume that all women desire the ballot. ALL WOMEN DO NOT DESIRE ANY ONE GOOD THING. There are some who desire no good thing at all. There are others who are not seeking the very best in any relation of life. If we had waited for a majority of the women of our nation to demand higher education, when do you suppose the doors of our colleges would have been opened to them?

Direct results have been predicted at every step of radical progress. When women first enjoyed higher education, the cry went out that the home would be destroyed. But the schools were opened, and women entered them, and it has been discovered that the intelligent woman makes a wiser mother, a better homemaker and a much more desirable companion, friend and wife than a woman whose intellectual horizon is narrowed by the circuit of embroidery and the minut.

When education was first tried, men thought they would easily carry off the honors, but soon they learned their mistake. THAT EXPERIENCE GAVE TO MEN A BETTER OPINION OF WOMAN'S INTELLECTUAL ABILITY. The larger intellectual powers of women and the greater financial independence of women have tended to elevate the home. There is nothing in liberty which can harm either man or woman; there is nothing in justice which can work against the best good of humanity.

IN COLUMBUS

Marshal Voglsmeier Secured This Man Who Was Given Heavy Dose by the Mayor.

Columbus, O., Oct. 4.—Frank Powell, of Newark, was arrested on Wednesday and delivered to the marshal of Newark, who had a warrant charging the prisoner with non-support of his family. Powell, it is alleged, left Newark some weeks ago, abandoning his wife and four children. He came to Columbus and has since been working here. His wife asked for his arrest, and the marshal came after him. While the marshal and Brady were going out Broad street Powell came along. He was at once placed under arrest and taken to Newark on the first train.

Frank Powers or Frank McManus, was brought from Columbus by Marshal Voglsmeier on a warrant sworn out by his wife charging him with abandoning her and their children. The day the Mayor fined him $10 and gave him 30 days on the stone pile.

About noon today Park Police Officer Jesse Phillips arrested W. W. Farrall for sleeping on one of the benches in the court house park. The arrest was Jesse's first and was done with great discretion and judgment, reflecting great credit on his vigilance.

KING IS ILL

Royal Physician is Summoned and There is Fear the Malady May be Serious.

Aberdeen, Oct. 4.—The Evening Express says that the king is suffering with lumbago, but it is impossible to confirm this statement. Official information on the condition of the royal patient cannot be obtained. Sir James Reid, physician extraordinary of her late majesty, has been summoned from London.

Reports from Scotland this afternoon that Sir James Reid, the royal physician, has been summoned to the king's bedside has increased the apprehension regarding the king's illness. There is a growing fear that his malady is of a more serious character than has been stated.

The Proofreader.

An anonymous writer in the American Printer of New York says: "The ideal proofreader for a small printing shop ought to be an accomplished printer, a sensible person, a person understanding the scope and limitations of the English language, one comprehending the true office of punctuation, one with a keen and true appreciation of literature, a storehouse of exact knowledge, a perfect grammarian, a perfect speller and with a fund of humor sufficient to enable him to do his whole duty along these various lines without making for an early grave. If he does not really know everything, he ought assuredly to be able to scent out an error and to know how to get at the truth. If he reads the proofs for a weekly newspaper also, he ought to know all about local affairs and all about the town or city in order to prevent the reported marriage of the girl who merely acted as bridesmaid and announce the mixed topography of the reporter's articles."

Tell of Magic Results Brought About in Burning, Itching, Bleeding Skin Troubles by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment draws more praise from ministers, physicians and lawyers than any other medicine in the world. It is endorsed by every profession.

Extracts from their Letters.

Rev. W. N. Edwards, Baptist minister, 100 Trinity Place, Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "For over fifteen years the itching piles have been a source of constant annoyance to me and frequently, too, the suffering has become intense. At times there was bleeding and the itching and burning was beyond endurance. The results I have derived from Dr. Chase's Ointment have been magical and the benefits lasting. I feel it a duty to fellow sufferers to recommend it."

Rev. J. M. Van Natter, Methodist minister, Avon, Wis., writes: "My wife was terribly afflicted with protruding piles and contemplated a surgical operation when her notice was drawn to Dr. Chase's Ointment, and less than one box effected a cure."

"I then used it for an unsightly and troublesome skin affection, which baffled medical skill for twenty-five years. Dr. Chase's Ointment thoroughly cured it. For piles and skin disease it is worth its weight in gold."

Rev. Chas. Fish, Methodist minister, 199 Duane avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes: "Ten years ago eczema began on my ears and spread over my head and hands. During that time I was a great sufferer. I tried many remedies and some of the best physicians—specialists on skin diseases—treated me. The first box of Dr. Chase's Ointment gave much relief and five boxes completely cured me. I think my cure a marvel, and gladly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Just as good for every form of skin trouble, no matter how long standing. 50 cents a box all dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

What's Better Than Home Indorsement?

Mr. E. T. Johnson, Newark, O.
Dear Sir:—My wife suffered for 10 years with Rheumatism and gradually became worse. Tried different doctors and various remedies without relief. One day some two or three years ago a friend told her of your preparation, RHEUMATOL. After using eight small bottles, (it was then put up in 50c size) all rheumatism disappeared and has never returned. Not only did it cure Rheumatism but a very bad case of Eczema of 20 years standing. A dreadful case it was, the sores and scabs spreading up back part of neck into the hair. Several doctors treated her for this malady but no relief of any consequence until RHEUMATOL was used. This Rheumatol cured Mrs. Brandt of Eczema as well as Rheumatism and neither has returned during this entire period of nearly 3 years, for which my wife and I are sincerely grateful, and we heartily recommend RHEUMATOL to any one suffering from Rheumatism or Eczema.

FINE DISPLAY

Of Fruits in Floral Hall—Noticeable Display of Grapes Grown by Mr. Spellman.

The display of fruits in Floral Hall is one of the finest ever seen at a Licking county fair, and attracts universal attention. One of the most noticeable displays of grapes is that made by Mr. William W. Spellman, of Granville, which is at the southeastern corner of the large hall. Mr. Spellman's exhibit consists of at least a dozen different varieties of the finest grapes grown. Among them are Wordens, Poekington, Colerain, Eaton, Diamond, Amber Queen and Empire State varieties, all of which are pronounced by experts to be of unusual fine quality and excellent in flavor.

Several days ago the editor of the Advocate was invited by Mr. Spellman to inspect his magnificent little vineyard, located near Denison's Athletic Park, in the western part of the village of Granville. The vineyard is laid out in terraces on a hill, and in it are to be found some twenty-three varieties of grapes. Mr. Spellman has taken great pains with his vineyard this year, and notwithstanding the unfavorable season, has succeeded in producing an abundant harvest of grapes. This is due largely to his method of enclosing each individual bunch of the fruit in a paper sack, which had the effect of preserving the grapes and protecting them from the insects, so that when the sacks were removed the bunch is found intact and solid, presenting a most beautiful appearance, giving results which are not to be obtained in any other manner. It would be hard to find a more beautiful sight than is offered by a walk through Mr. Spellman's vineyard in the grape season. Mr. Spellman is thoroughly experienced in grape culture and he prides himself on the manner in which the vines are cared for. The vines are all of vigorous growth, sparkling with the handsomely colored fruit, the weight of which in many cases bent the loaded vines. Mr. Spellman's vineyard may be taken as an object lesson to demonstrate that painstaking and intelligent care bestowed upon grape vines pays well. The vines are kept well trimmed all summer and the result is a splendid crop of perfect fruit, while the general grape crop in this vicinity this season is almost a failure. The editor was greatly pleased with his visit and returns his thanks to Mr. Spellman for the courtesies shown.

G. A. Roberts of Lintner, Ill., suffered four years with a wad in his stomach and could not eat. He lost 65 pounds. Two bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin restored his appetite, cured his stomach trouble and today he is well and hearty and says he owes his health to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

MRS. ROOSEVELT

Has a Social Secretary, Miss Hagner, Who Will be the Adviser of the New President's Wife.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Roosevelt has appointed Miss Isabella Hagner as her social secretary. Miss Hagner will attend not only to the social correspondence of the new first lady of the land, but will be Mrs. Roosevelt's adviser on all matters pertaining to the order of precedence at dinners and receptions and the naming of personages to whom invitations for these functions should be sent. By appointing a recognized authority on social problems, Mrs. Roosevelt hopes to be spared some mistakes that have been made at the White House when these delicate matters were left in the hands of clerks. For instance at one dinner given during President McKinley's administration the clerk who assigned guests to places at a state dinner planted the Mexican ambassador next the wife of the Austrian minister. Since the execution of Maximilian the representatives of Austria have harbored a deep hatred for the powers of the new republic, and one may imagine how these ill-seated guests enjoyed their dinner.

Miss Hagner has been often consulted during the last four or five years by the ladies of the cabinet, and as she is very popular with all of them, her appointment as social aide to Mrs. Roosevelt will give general satisfaction.

ON LINES

Of the Big Steel Trust the Rubber Companies Will Consolidate Very Soon.

Akron, O., Oct. 4.—A combination of all the larger rubber companies of the United States, including the Tire Trust, the Consolidated Tire Company and the Soft Rubber Trust, the United States Rubber Company is about to be formed along the lines used by the organization of the United States Steel Company. Details of the plan are a secret, and will be until options have been secured on the different plants. The work has been going on slowly, as these are all held at high valuations, the business having been more profitable this season than ever before. Among the companies interested are the Manhattan and Packing and Belting Companies New York; River Rubber Company, Boston; New Jersey Car Spring Company and the Goodrich and Diamond Companies of Akron. August Belmont & Co. of New York are among those back of the project. Charles R. Flint, who organized the United States Rubber Co., is also assisting. Several meetings have been held in New York, the project having been on foot for two months, though the movement has been very secret.

Which Is Correct?

The proper pronunciation of the President's name is as if it were spelled Rose-velt. There is no prominent American with a name so generally mispronounced. The family is of Dutch ancestry and very jealous of the proper pronunciation.—Columbus Dispatch.

The Century Cyclopedia of Names, edited by Benj. E. Smith, managing editor of the Century Dictionary, gives the pronunciation of Roosevelt as "Ros-velt" with a long "o" and accent on the first syllable.

Either the Dispatch or the Century Cyclopedia is wrong. Which is right?

It is not known how the fire originated.

FARM FENCES

Moved Back to Give Room for Electric Railway—The Work is Being Rapidly Carried On.

(Pataskala Standard.)

The old national pike east and west of Reynoldsburg is undergoing a wonderful change at the hands of workmen engaged in grading for the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark railway. This road was originally 80 feet in width, but during the past has, for the greater length of its route, been reduced to 60 feet. The farm fences have now been set back 20 feet and the telegraph poles moved to the outer margin, thus producing a change that is truly remarkable. The work is being carried on rapidly, and it will not be a great while until the whirr of the electric car will be heard along this old thoroughfare that, in years past was wont to echo to the crack of the stage driver's whip, as well as the rumble of heavy wagons that plied between the eastern trading marts and the west.

NATURAL GAS

Solicitor Smythe Explains Meaning of the Two Recent Injunctions—Many Questions Asked.

By reason of the fact that it is impossible for me to personally answer the large number of inquiries I receive in reference to the latest natural gas litigation, I take this means of explaining the effect of the two injunctions granted by Judge Jones:

1. The company is required to furnish gas to any consumer who will offer to pay for one month, and to furnish it without requiring the consumer to sign a contract.

2. They are required to furnish gas either by meter or flat rate without the signing of a contract.

If the company refuses to so furnish gas to any citizen I would be obliged if the facts were reported to me.

New York, Oct. 4.—At the Democratic city convention, when District Attorney Littleton of Brooklyn placed the name of Edward M. The Sheppard nominating speeches were interrupted and the roll call was performed abandoned.
